Dear Parish Family,

During the coming week, I would ask for your prayers. I will be away from the parish from July 30th to August 3rd on retreat. Priests of the Diocese of Cleveland are expected to make a weekly retreat each year.

Please know that I lift each one of you up in prayer to the Lord each day. I hope that these summer days will allow you and your loved ones to spend some additional time together. Vacations can be such a blessed time for families. How often family members hearken back to the treasured memories of family trips in days gone by. I pray that this summer will allow you and your loved ones an opportunity to step back and, as the Gospel tells us, “rest a while.”

The Gospel for this Sunday, the 17th Sunday in Ordinary Time, comes to us from John 6:1-15. It is John’s account of the multiplication of the loaves and the fishes. Five barley loaves and two fish, placed in the hands of Jesus, fed thousands. The great miracle reminds us of the need to place all that we do in the hands of Jesus. Our work, our hopes and dreams, our every good and legitimate desire – all of these are to be placed in his hands. Indeed, our very lives, when placed in his hands, will bear abundant fruit for the kingdom of God.

When we are tempted to be filled with needless anxiety, let’s put those concerns in God’s hands. In doing so, we are allowing the lord to create in us clean hearts and steadfast spirits.

God bless you,

Fr. Dan Redmond
